

Hearst's Party Takes Decided Stand Against Injunctions

SESSION TO OPEN TONIGHT: CHICAGO

Many Candidates For President Are Active--- 900 Delegates

Chicago, July 27.—The national convention of the Independence party will begin its session tonight, and if present plans are carried out the platform will contain a more radical declaration on the question of injunctions than was embodied in the platform of either the Democratic or Republican party.

From present indications the temper of the convention will be in favor of a declaration doing away entirely with preliminary injunctions in cases of labor disputes. The majority of the delegates who have arrived also believe that there should be no punishment for contempt of court until after a trial by jury.

The sentiment of the convention, so far as it can be forecasted, is somewhat divided concerning the financial plank of the platform. The majority seems to favor a declaration that all money should be issued directly by the government without an intermediary. Others incline to the view that the money should be issued through national banks.

Another declaration which will likely be in the platform will be in favor of giving to the interstate commerce commission the power to initiate changes in railroad tariffs, and that no rates shall be reduced without the permission of the commission.

An amendment to the Sherman act will be favored adjusting that statute in such a manner that it can be made to apply only to such combinations as are clearly acting in restraint of trade or tending towards monopoly. Over-capitalization of corporations will be condemned. A strong and specific declaration will also be made in favor of the restriction of Asiatic immigration.

It is asserted on all sides that the contest for the nominations will be free and open. Of the candidates now in the field Thomas L. Hsigen of Massachusetts has a strong following, and he is apparently in the lead. W. M. Howard of Alabama has many friends who are making a strong fight for him. The Indiana delegation is pushing Charles F. S. Neal of that state, although Mr. Neal himself said that he hardly expected his name to go before the convention. Other candidates are John Temple Graves of Georgia and Howard S. Taylor of Chicago. The name of Charles A. Walsh of Iowa, secretary of the national committee, and who for many years acted in a similar capacity for the Democratic party, is also mentioned.

William Randolph Hearst, who is to be temporary chairman of the convention, arrived here, and after spending several hours in company with friends returned to the Auditorium Annex to put the finishing touches on his speech.

Mr. Hearst reiterated the statement he had made in New York, that he was not a candidate for the presidential nomination and that he would adhere positively to his declaration that he must be considered in that light.

Mr. Hearst was asked if, in his opinion, there existed any probability of fusion with the Democratic party or indorsement of Mr. Bryan. He replied: "It has been my understanding that the convention will nominate its own candidate and that we will conduct a campaign independent of the Republican and Democratic and all other parties. Since coming to Chicago I have heard no sentiment other than this, and I do not believe there is even a remote possibility of fusion, or the indorsement of any candidate except our own."

At a conference of leaders it was decided that Charles A. Walsh should be the permanent chairman of the convention.

Thomas L. Hsigen, whose candidacy for the presidency is strongly favored by many delegates, is in the city. He made the assertion that there was no possibility of fusion with the Democratic party, adding: "There are many of us who like Mr. Bryan personally, but we can not agree with some of the things he advocates, nor do we fancy some of the men upon whom he seems to lean most strongly. Personally I lost my interest in the Democratic party when it failed to nominate Mr. Hearst four years ago in St. Louis. I am full of confidence in the future of the Independence party, and know that it will be more virile and more aggressive than either the Democratic or Republican organizations."

The national committee met this morning at 10 o'clock and made the final preparations for the convention.

WILLIAM RANDOLPH HEARST

The New York editor who originated the Independent party and is the temporary chairman of the Chicago convention. Although a leading Democrat he denounced Bryan and Bryanism.

Queen City is Ablaze For Taft

CINCINNATI, July 27.—Judge Taft appeared at his offices in the Hotel Sinton shortly after eight o'clock this morning in anticipation of a busy day. Arthur I. Vorvys was first given an audience. The program for tomorrow was carefully gone over and approved. A meeting of the state central committee is called at the hotel this afternoon at which Judge Taft will be present.

Cincinnati, O., July 27.—Not for years has the Queen City put on such a show as have been evidenced during the past few days, and the gaily decorated streets and buildings will present a spectacle to the thousands of visitors who will come tomorrow to attend the Taft notification exercises that will long be remembered.

The ceremonies of the day will begin with the presentation of a hand-some flag to Mr. Charles P. Taft. The speech will be made by Judge J. H. Brownwell.

The escorting of the committeemen from the Hotel Sinton and an 11 o'clock breakfast in their honor will follow. The breakfast over, the committeemen will take their places on the two platforms. Senator Warner, chairman of the notification committee of the national committee, will escort Judge Taft to the speakers' platform and will there, in a brief speech, commendate to him the fact of his nomination for the presidency. Then will follow the speech which Mr. Taft has so carefully prepared, and for the approval of which by President Roosevelt he has just made a pilgrimage to Oyster Bay.

Although the speech in detail is long, Mr. Taft has hit upon what he believes will be an approved idea of condensing it for reading, so that its delivery may be accomplished in less than an hour.

Then will a reviewing stand be thrust quickly through the gates of the mansion, and for an hour and a half Mr. Taft will witness the enthusiasm of marching club after marching club as it proceeds merrily by in the street, with bands and shouts and campaign yells, as auxiliaries to uniforms and banners.

Four divisions have been provided for in the parade, one for clubs from Ohio, one for clubs from Indiana, one for clubs from Kentucky, and the fourth will be composed of clubs from other states.

11 Drowned in One Day

[Associated Dailies Telegram] NEW YORK, July 27.—Reports today show eleven dead and eight persons rescued from drowning Sunday in this city. This breaks the record for one day.

DRUNKEN WHELP SLASHES LADY IN AUTO

Coshocton automobile drivers are arming themselves with guns. A well known auto owner stated to the Age reporter today that if he had had a gun Friday night the population of Coshocton county would have been reduced slightly. He and his wife were driving down the river road. Two drunk men were ahead of them. The horse the men were driving showed no signs of fright, but the men in the buggy began to curse the autolst and yelled what they would do if he scared their horse. The horse paid no attention to the machine but just as the auto passed one of the men reached out with the whip and slashed the lady

Boys Kill Snake That Proves to be a Freak

While working in a wheat field on their father's farm two miles north of Warsaw Thursday, Russell and Carl Kissner killed a black snake three feet and half long and threw it into a fence corner.

Friday evening when returning from work they found a five foot snake of the same kind lying in the sun stretched full length among the stubbles about thirty feet from where they had thrown the smaller one.

Russell grabbed a club and the snake lay perfectly motionless making no move to either crawl away or coil up and was quickly put out of business. Carl seized with a spirit of sport caught the reptile by the tail and began swinging him around.

Imagine their surprise as the crawler grew curiously longer and seemed to break in two, one part flying off and alighting several feet away, but the queer part came when they observed the snake to be "all there." The mystery was soon explained, when they went over to the other "piece" and found the small snake which they had killed the day before. The small black reptile had been eaten by his larger brother, probably being too large to throw down securely and the swinging threw him out.

GERMAN PAPER IS AGAINST MEHAFFEY

Prominent Democrat Bolts Ticket---Freeze-out Deal Fixed

It is whispered in political circles Monday that Jacob Werner and his German newspaper the 'Wochenblatt' will not support Perry MehaFFEY, the recent Democratic nominee for state senator in this district. Mr. Werner could not be seen but it comes pretty straight that he will "go after" MehaFFEY in his paper not only in German but also in plainest kind of English. It is understood that an allegation is that MehaFFEY was elected to his first term by aid of the liquor league and that after he played with them a little, he turned over to the anti-saloon side of the senate.

Another interesting bit of political gossip is that the way MehaFFEY happened to beat John Adams for the nomination the other day at Cambridge was through a deal he framed up which excludes Coshocton county Democrats from any chance at a look in two years hence when this hyphenated district gets two senators. The deal alleged is that Guernsey county promised both Monroe and Tuscarawas, if they would support MehaFFEY this time, that two years hence the two Democratic senatorial nominees should be Yost of Monroe and some man yet unnamed from Tuscarawas county.

That was what broke down John Adams' Tuscarawas county line up and defeated him when victory seemed sure.

DUTCH WARSHIPS MAY SHELL CASTRO'S CITIES

[Associated Dailies Telegram] AMSTERDAM, July 27.—Official announcement is made here today that all Dutch warships in American waters have been ordered to proceed at once to Venezuela and make an assertive demonstration.

Unless President Castro apologizes for his summary expulsion of J. H. Derris, the Holland ambassador, the Dutch may bombard the Venezuelan ports of LaGuayra and Puerto Bella. Both cities are strongly fortified.

Nearly Ready For Labor Day

The Labor Day committee held a meeting at Labor hall Sunday and the time was spent in the classification of the prizes and working upon the program. The list of prizes is now completed but the program of events is not entirely arranged. It will be finished in a few days at which time the whole program for the day will appear in The Age.

Accused of Awful Crime, He Flees

Calvin Everhart, Prominent Farmer, Accused by 9-Year-Old Girl

Mayor Hamilton Put Him Under $2,000 Bond And it is Forfeited by Non-appearance

Charged with a most degrading crime on Gertrude Schlarb, aged 9, Calvin Everhart, a wealthy and well known farmer of near Fresno, has skipped the country and forfeited a bond of $2,000, which he and his wife, Jennie Everhart, signed Saturday night.

The sound judgment of Mayor Hamilton in making the bond high enough is being commended on all sides.

Everhart failed to appear at 9 o'clock Monday morning and at 10:35 the bond was declared forfeited by Mayor Hamilton, the conditions of the bond having been broken and all efforts to locate Everhart having failed.

Calvin Everhart, 46, of near Chili, was arrested by Sheriff Browning and brought to Coshocton charged with assaulting nine-year-old Gertrude Schlarb with intent to ravish. He appeared before Mayor Hamilton Saturday evening and gave bond in the sum of $2,000 for his appearance before the mayor at 9 o'clock Monday morning.

The crime is alleged to have been committed Tuesday July 11. To Dr. McCurdy in the presence of Prosecutor McDowell she told a story that if true would send Everhart to the penitentiary. She alleges that he caught her along the road. Little Gertrude told her father, Jacob Schlarb, who called Everhart over and confronted him with the charge. Prosecutor McDowell was notified and Everhart was arrested.

Everhart is married and has always born a good reputation. His friends believe that he will be cleared of the charge although the evidence seems against him. Jacob Schlarb, his wife and two little children drove to Coshocton Monday morning for the preliminary hearing. James Glenn has been retained by the defendant.

Inquiry at Chili fails to shed any light upon Everhart's whereabouts. The little girl, who is the central figure in the case, attracted much attention in Coshocton Monday morning. She is a blue-eyed flaxen-haired child, with her hair in tiny braids. Her father had little to say.

Although the bond is forfeited, Everhart would probably be re-arrested if he can be located.

It is said that Schlarb, the father of the child, reported here that Everhart and his wife had both fled and that their house had been locked since Sunday morning. This proves to be incorrect. In fact it is alleged that Schlarb has told a number of conflicting stories here.

It is found that Mrs. Everhart and their 18 year old daughter were at home Sunday and still there Monday. Friends of Everhart are staunch in their belief of his innocence and express some positive beliefs as to the start of the story. They do not think that he has fled the county either, but that he is probably in hiding temporarily somewhere near; that he simply grew panic-stricken at the magnitude of the charge and did the worst thing he possibly could do under the circumstances—failed to show up in court. They think he will be about in a short time.

Schlarb is reported as saying if Everhart would go away and stay a year or so, he'd say nothing about the case and not bring any action.

Threatens Judge With Death

[Associated Dailies Telegram] NEW YORK, July 27.—Judge Rosalsky was threatened with death today when he sentenced Casimiro Riccobona who assaulted and tried to rob a bank messenger of $43,000 in cash. Riccobona was given ten years and as he was led from the court room he called loudly upon the Mafia to "get the judge."

DR. STACEY IS ACTING MAYOR

Dr. S. A. Stacey, president of the city council, was sworn in as mayor Monday morning to act as the city's chief executive in the absence of Mayor Hamilton, who left today for Mt. Clemens.

Sooner than submit to arrest on a charge of nonsupport, Albert Butz of New York turned on the gas in his room and was asphyxiated, and when police broke in the door and lit a match an explosion took place in which two officers were injured.

COUNCIL TO TALK SEWERS

The city council will hold its regular meeting tomorrow night. A grade ordinance for Fifteenth street is the only new matter coming up so far as can be seen now. A report may be received from the board of public service upon what progress has been made in the negotiations with J. R. Stewart for a sewer right of way through his property at the south end of First street.

To Organize Tuesday Evening

The meeting to organize the Coshocton County Historical and Archaeological society has been called for Tuesday evening, at 7:30 in the common pleas courtroom. Everyone interested is invited to attend.

PROBERS KNOCKED OUT

[Associated Dailies Telegram] CINCINNATI, July 27.—The circuit court today handed down a decision knocking out the Gayman investigation committee as an unconstitutional body. The court holds the legislature had no right either under the constitution or by implication to confer the powers it sought to place in the committee, as judicial function cannot be conferred on such a body and anyhow the committee died when the legislature adjourned sine die.

Capt. Lybauger of Coshocton was a member of this probing committee.

Stabbed by Boy

[Associated Dailies Telegram] NEW YORK, July 27.—John Reynolds, 15, was stabbed and killed by another boy on the street today. They quarreled. The identity of the murderer is not known.

AN ANGLER'S ELYSIUM
According to advertisements, all summer resorts are alike. They are the best ever but if fishing is better anywhere else than it is in "Georgian Bay" we don't know where it is. There is a greater variety of fish in this water than anywhere else and they are always hungry. The only place you can afford to fish is where the fish are numerous, big and delicious in flavor, and that place is "Georgian Bay"—so the fishermen say. Natives of Curacao Resent Venezuelan's Statements.

CONSUL SEEKS SANCTUARY

Feeling Against Castro's Government Runs High In Dutch West Indian Possession. Takes Form of Mob Violence and Troops Are Called Out After Police Demonstrate Inability to Cope With Situation—Relations Strained to Breaking Point.

Willemstad, Curacao, July 27.—Following a long and bitter fight the residents of Curacao regard as antagonistic the actions on the part of President Castro, directed against themselves and the Dutch government, mobs gathered in force and expressed their resentment in an attack upon the home of a Venezuelan who had published statements in Venezuelan papers derogatory to the island, and later held violent demonstrations in front of the residence of the Venezuelan consulate, surrounded the German consulate, where he had taken refuge, and compelled the ordering out of armed troops so that the consul might be protected from injury. The demonstration before the residence of the Venezuelan consul, Senor Lopez, occurred late at night, and although no actual attack was made, it is stated that two shots were fired from the consul's house, no one, however, being injured. As a result the relations between Venezuela and the residents of Curacao are strained to the breaking point.

Prior to this, about 10 o'clock, a mob numbering about 1,000 gathered in front of the dwelling of a Venezuelan resident who, it is alleged, had insulted Curacao in the Venezuelan papers, broke down the doors with stones and, seizing the man, compelled him to sign a paper which set forth an elaborate excuse for the publication of the statements with which he was charged.

The leaders of the populace also forced him to make a public apology from the balcony of his home, while the crowd below booed and groaned in accompaniment. Furthermore, members of the man's family were compelled to play the Dutch national hymn while the people below shouted "Down with Castro; long may Wilhelmina live." The police were entirely unable to cope with the demonstrators, and their efforts in this direction were somewhat feeble. No bodily harm was done to any one, but the shouting and cheering continued for a time and then a procession was formed and a march made upon the consul's house.

In the morning it was noted that there was no shield on the building occupied by the Venezuelan consul. It is not known whether it was removed by the Venezuelans or torn down by Curacao natives. There was a gathering again of the mob in the morning, and when it was learned that the Venezuelan consul had proceeded to the German consulate this building was surrounded by an ever-increasing mob. The attorney general made a determined effort to quiet the populace, which was becoming more and more excited all the while. A small military force attempted to check the demonstration, but for a time that was found impossible.

It became necessary eventually to call out additional troops, and these at once proceeded to patrol the streets and stop the rioting. Consul Lopez was escorted to the Venezuelan consulate by an armed force, and he gathered up the official documents of his office and was escorted back to his home. The troops that accompanied him were compelled to force their way through the crowds that had gathered and were jeering on every hand.

An armed guard was left to protect the Venezuelan consulate and another guard was stationed at the consul's residence. Other troops continued patrolling the city.

Medical men stand appalled at the marvelous cures that are being effected wherever his system has been introduced. Thousands who have given up all hope of ever being cured have now an opportunity of a lifetime to consult, without charge, a Scientist and Specialist of national reputation. Remember, his knowledge of all schools and systems of medicine, combined with 30 years' experience in his Sanitarium gives him control of diseases that others do not possess. If you are afflicted in any way call on him. Think, if you are addicted with the morphine, opium or whiskey habit, his new system will cure you quickly.

If you suspect kidney trouble, bring a two-ounce vial of your urine for a chemical and microscopic analysis. If you are improving under your family physician do not come and take up his valuable time. Idiots and curiosity-seekers will please stay away.

Cancers, Tumors, Ulcers, all blood, skin and scalp diseases cured by an entirely new method. Piles and Varicose veins cured in from 5 to 30 days without the knife. Remember, not one penny will be charged for consultation, examination, or a scientific diagnosis of your case, in person or by mail.

The Man of the Hour

By Albert Payson Terhune

"That isn't why I promised to vote for it," contradicted Roberts, "it was a despairing dash of courage. With a because I—because—"

"Never mind why, then, but just go ahead and do it."

"I won't! I dare not!"

"You'll do it, I say!" stormed Horri-gan. "You can't watch on me at this stage of the game. Those Sturtevant Trust company notes of yours were sent to you and—"

"And I won't take them!" declared Roberts, slamming two slips of paper down upon the table. "There! Take them back!"

"What do I want of them?" argued Horri-gan craftily. "They belong to you."

"They don't. I won't keep them."

"You'll have to. I keep you to your promise."

"What promise?" asked a voice behind them.

Bennett, hastily summoned by Phelan, had entered the room unobserved by either of the excited men.

"What promise?" he asked again. "A promise to—"

"What are you doing here?" bellowed Horri-gan in fury. "You called me down once for coming into your private office without knocking. What d'you mean by coming into mine?"

"Yours?" queried Alwyn. "I had an idea it was the city's. The time is past when the words 'Horri-gan' and 'city' meant the same thing. Well, Roberts, how are you going to vote? I want to believe you honest, and—Why, what's all this?" his eyes falling on the forgotten notes on the table.

"Nothing of yours!" shouted Horri-gan, making a futile, furious grab for the documents which Alwyn was picking up. "Drop them! Drop them. I say, or you'll—"

"Why should I?" asked Bennett calmly, his quick eye taking in the nature of the slips of paper even as his alert brain grasped in full the meaning of the transaction in which they figured. "Do they belong to you?"

"They don't belong to you anyway," retorted Horri-gan, "and if you dare read them—"

"I've already read them. Roberts," he added in a kinder voice, turning to the shaking alderman, "these were to have been your bribe, weren't they, for voting for the Borough bill?"

His quietly compelling tone and glance forced from Roberts a frightened "Yes" before Horri-gan could interfere.

"I thought so. Be quiet, Horri-gan," he commanded as the infuriated boss sought to speak through his choking wrath. "This is between Roberts and me. Now, then—"

"I returned the notes to him!" pleaded Roberts in panic. "Honestly, I did! Just before you came in. I could have kept them, and he couldn't have prevented me even if I voted against the bill. But I'm square and—"

"You are square!" affirmed Bennett, gripping the alderman's cold, moist hand in friendly reassurance. "I knew all along you were honest at heart. Horri-gan wanted to bribe you, and you wouldn't be bribed. Now, I want you to go into the council room and vote as your manhood tells you to."

Roberts, comforted, yet still trembling, obeyed, not venturing a second look at Horri-gan.

"Now, my friend," said Bennett pleasantly when he and the boss were alone together, "what are you going to do about it? It seems to me your game is up."

"I want those notes!" panted Horri-gan, fluting coherent speech with an effort through his red mist of rage.

"Why? They're not yours. They aren't made over to you, and there is no cancellation stamp on them. They are the property of the Sturtevant Trust company, and I'll send them back there tomorrow—after I've had them photographed."

"You'll give them to me," shouted Horri-gan, his mighty body vibrating with fury, "or you'll never leave this room alive!"

"You're a fool, Horri-gan," remarked Bennett, with condescending calm, "for you don't even know the right man to bully!"

He gazed unflinchingly into the maddened little eyes of the boss, and so for a moment they stood—patrician and proletarian—in the world old struggle of the two for supremacy.

Horri-gan's face was scarlet, distorted, murderous; Bennett's pale, cold, deadly in its repose.

Then waged the battle of wills, both men standing motionless, tense, vibrant with dynamic force.

Slowly, little by little, Horri-gan's eyes dropped. He moved awkwardly to one side from his position in front of the door and Bennett, without so much as a backward look, passed out.

The boss, like a man in a daze, sank heavily into a chair and gazed straight ahead of him, his usually red face gray and pasty.

But he was not to enjoy even the scant boon of solitude. From the ante-room Gibbs strolled in.

"They're going over some unimportant preliminary business," remarked the broker, "so I came out for a breath of fresh air. How are things going?"

"We're hot," growled Horri-gan, not looking up.

"Hot?" screamed Gibbs, ashen and inert at the news. "You don't mean it! You can't mean it! Great heaven!"

The sight of the other's cowardly emotion seemed to rouse Horri-gan from his apathy.

"If I can stand it, you can!" he snarled. "You only lose your percentage on the deal, while I—"

"A percentage?" echoed Gibbs, too pale stricken to heed his own indiscretion. "Every cent I had in the world! I—"

He checked himself an instant too late.

"So?" drawled Horri-gan, his keen little eyes searing the other with boundless contempt. "So it was you who were secretly buying up the stock and tailing in on to our game, hey?"

"I'm ruined! Broke! And—"

"And you've got it coming to you, you whining traitor! The man who goes back on his partners deserves all the kicking he gets."

"I—I didn't mean any harm!" mumbled the crushed Gibbs. "It couldn't hurt you people to have me buy Borough stock for myself, and I'd have cleared up a million and more. Oh, don't glower like that, Horri-gan, but try to think out some way of—"

"Of what, you cur?"

"Isn't there any way even now to make Bennett let up on his fight?"

"If there was you couldn't be of use to us, so why should I talk about it to you?"

"But I'd do anything in the world—anything!"

"You would?" cut in Horri-gan sharply.

"Yes, yes! Only give me a chance! I'd—"

Horri-gan considered, then said reflectively:

"No chance is too slight to take at a time like this, and nobody's too rotten to be of use. I've found there are three things, one of which will always buy any man—a woman, ambition or cash. We've tried Bennett on ambition; he doesn't need money, so only the first of the three remains."

Over Thirty Five Years.

In 1872 there was a great deal of diarrhoea, dysentery and cholera infantum. It was at this time that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was first brought into use. It proved more successful than any other remedy or treatment and has for thirty five years maintained that record. From a small beginning its sale and use has extended to every part of the United States and to many foreign countries. Nine druggists out of every ten will recommend it when their opinion is asked, although they have other medicines that pay them a greater profit. It can always be depended upon, even in the most severe and dangerous cases. For sale by C. E. Anderson's Drug and Book Store, Coshocton, and C. M. Ferguson, Roscoe.

A CLEAN COOL SCALP

Parisian Sage Stops All Odors and Keeps the Scalp Cool and Clean. Almost everybody nowadays knows that Parisian Sage, the invigorating hair restorer, is guaranteed to cure dandruff, stop falling hair and itching scalp in two weeks, or C. E. Anderson will give you your money back.

But you ought to know more about this marvelous hair grower. You ought to know that in five minutes after an application, no matter how hot the weather, your head will be as cool as a cucumber.

You ought to know also, that it kills all odors which arise from the excretions of the scalp, which are particularly strong in summer time.

Everyone ought to have a bottle of Parisian Sage on hand, because it is such a pleasant and exhilarating hair dressing.

Ladies use it because they know it makes the hair beautiful, silky and luxuriant. Here's what a New York woman writes:

"I have used Parisian Sage two weeks only, yet in that time I find my hair has wonderfully increased in beauty, thickness and luxuriance. But what surprised me most was the disappearance of all dandruff. It pleases me to recommend such an efficient remedy to all my friends. Gratefully yours, Mrs. May Haggar, 617 West 126th St., New York City."

C. E. Anderson sells Parisian Sage at 50 cents a large bottle, or you can get it direct by express at the same price, all charges prepaid, from Gironx Mfg. Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

At the Sixth Street

"The Setting of the Sun" is the title of the playlet which is to be put on at the Sixth Street tonight by the C. Homer Durand company.

It is alone act drama by Chas. Hamann and pronounced by the Liverpool papers on its first production in 1892 as a classic. It was first staged by Wilson Barrett with a notable cast and is offered here for the first time west of New York.

The plot moves around the kaleidoscopic changes in the love affairs of Harry Lane (Fred Compton) a young soldier who discovers just before it is too late that he does not care enough for the two daughters of the elder, the Rev. Morfield, to keep his pledge. This is the first opportunity Mr. Compton will have to portray an emotional lead. Miss Speckman makes her bow to the public for the first time in the "strictly legitimate" in essaying the difficult role of Janet, who is called upon to renounce her sweetheart for the sake of her sister. The part of Lucy, the younger sister, falls to Miss Powellson and her friends will have the opportunity of seeing her delineate a role second to none in the east. C. Homer Durand, as the Rev. Morfield, is called upon to do a bit of character work out of his usual line. The scene where he advises the young man, to the everlasting unhappiness of his daughter and the pained anger with which he points out the straight and narrow way is a scene that has stamped the playlet a classic.

Sixth Street Vaudeville

Coshocton theatre-goers will have the privilege of seeing in vaudeville the first three days this week Cora Lawton Mitchell who appears with Wallace Clinton in a clever comedy sketch. Miss Mitchell needs no introduction to a Coshocton audience as she has been here a number of times, once last year with a very strong company traveling under the name The Cora Mitchell Stock Co.

Electric

A bill that comes particularly highly recommended goes on at the Electric this week consisting of Chas. J. Mack, Irish comedian and Miss Nabel Burgess in a funny sketch. Both are reported to be rich. The pictures "Romero and Juliet" made a big hit at this theatre Saturday night and the management promises something strong tonight.

Pard Clark swore out a warrant against Chas. Ives, one of the proprietors of the Senate Bar, for sleeping him Saturday night.

Ray Dahamell has resigned his position at the Enamelling plant and has accepted one at Conesville in Wilkins and Edwards' store.

HITCHCOCK MAKES A CALL ON BRYAN

Politics is Tabooed at Meeting in Chicago Hotel.

Chicago, July 27.—William J. Bryan spent the day quietly in his room in the Auditorium Annex where he received a number of visitors, chief among whom was Frank H. Hitchcock, chairman of the Republican national committee, who called to pay his respects to the Democratic leader. The two men spent some time in a pleasant conversation, which was apparently enjoyed by them both. Politics was not mentioned during their talk.

He also met informally the members of the subcommittee of the national committee, who have been here for the last two days. The plans of the coming campaign were discussed but no definite action resulted, the conference being of a general character. Mr. Bryan announced that on some day this week he will announce the dates on which he intends making addresses during the next two months.

Although William R. Hearst of New York arrived during the day and his room in the hotel was not far from that of Mr. Bryan, neither of the men paid the slightest attention to the other. They did not meet during the day and no messages were exchanged.

It was announced that John R. Burton of New York will act as assistant secretary of the national committee throughout the campaign. Willis J. Abbott was appointed head of the press bureau, which will work in connection with the advisory bureau, which is under the direction of Henry Watterson.

Chairman Norman E. Mack has determined to establish Democratic headquarters in the Auditorium Annex in this city. He also announced that the New York sub-headquarters of the committee would be in the Hoffman House. He also announced that there soon would be appointed an advisory committee to be composed of men not members of the national committee. The executive committee will be composed exclusively of members of the national committee.

Mother's Milk Carries the Laxative With It

No need to give Cascarets direct to the baby. If the mother takes them, baby gets the benefit.

This vegetable laxative conveys its full effect to the mother's milk.

So one candy tablet, taken when needed, keeps both mother and baby well.

No other laxative is gentle enough for a baby. No other acts so naturally. Use Cascarets alone.

Any person living largely on milk must have the help of a laxative.

Milk fails to supply the laxative effects that other foods supply.

So nursing mothers all need Cascarets

—to make the baby's food gently laxative.

Cascarets have the same effect as laxative foods would have. They are as harmless as food.

That is not true of any other laxative that the world has yet produced.

Cascarets are candy tablets. They are sold by all druggists, but never in bulk. Be sure to get the genuine, with CCC on every tablet. The box is marked like this:

Cascarets

WHERE ARE VOTES TO COME FROM?

Mr. Bryan is reported to have no hopes of carrying any eastern state. He feels assured of the vote of the solid south, and for the rest he looks to the west to give him the majority in the electoral college he professes confidently to expect.

The solid south, that is, the eleven states south of Maryland and Kentucky, have 120 votes, which may be conceded to Bryan, says the Philadelphia Press. If we add to this the 46 votes of Oklahoma, Maryland, Kentucky and Missouri we have 166 votes for Bryan, leaving him 76 that he must get from the west and north-west in order to have 212 votes, a bare majority in the electoral college.

All the states west of the Missouri—calling 65 votes—supporting Bryan, in addition to the southern votes, would still leave him with eleven votes short of the majority. Any one of the western states east of the Missouri and north of the Ohio could supply these eleven votes if so minded. This most generous estimate throws into the Democratic column states that have never in their history supported the Democratic electoral ticket, and states whose recent elections have shown each year an increasing Republican majority. It includes the extreme Pacific coast states, which are as sure to vote for Taft as Massachusetts, and Kansas, which gave Roosevelt 125,000 majority.

It is said that Mr. Bryan regards the great states of the middle west, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Minnesota and Wisconsin, as hopeful fighting ground. These states have 83 votes and could make Bryan president if it were not for their fixed habit of voting the Republican ticket at presidential elections. Mr. Bryan hopes that the radicalism of LaFollette and the popularity of Johnson may inure to his advantage in Wisconsin and Minnesota respectively. His hopes of the other states have a still more shadowy basis.

Indiana is claimed as doubtful, though it gave Bryan 26,475 votes less than it gave McKinley in 1900, and gave Roosevelt four years ago nearly 24,000 over Parker. Apparently Mr. Bryan thinks the selection of Mr. Kern as his running mate has made the ticket strong in Indiana. How strong is Kern in Indiana? He ran for governor of that state in 1900 and was beaten by 25,163 votes, almost as badly as Bryan. Four years ago he tested his popularity in Indiana again as its candidate for governor and was beaten by $1,361. Nothing has happened since then, so far as the public is informed, to increase Mr. Kern's popularity in his own state.

No combination of recorded election figures can be made to sustain Mr. Bryan's hope of success. In order to estimate for him a bare majority in the electoral college, we must suppose a political revolution, a complete change in the views and desires of the people of the United States in a large and widely separated area. As yet there is no sign of this revolution, except in Mr. Bryan's radiant and hopeful vision.

TAFT'S ACCEPTANCE

The Age is in receipt of advance sheets of the acceptance speech of Judge Taft to be delivered at Cincinnati Tuesday, sent by his secretary to the editor of this paper, and it is one of the best Republican documents that has been issued for many days. The Age will publish the speech in full in Tuesday's paper and every reader should carefully read it through, no matter what his politics. It will shed light upon questions that have been talked of so much that they have grown garbled. The speech is clear, logical, concise, straight forward and frank, yet tempered with absolute fairness. It is the word of a big honest man to his fellowmen. Watch for it in Tuesday's Age.

DEMOCRATS THINK BANNER OBTRUSIVE

Want Taft Streamer Removed On Lincoln's Big Day.

Lincoln, Neb., July 27.—If Lincoln Democrats have their way the Taft banner which is hung over the main street will be taken down on the day Bryan is formally notified of his nomination. The banner, which proclaims that Taft will carry Nebraska, has been an eyesore to the local Democrats since it was hung up. A week after it was placed, when it was the subject of much discussion, the banner was burned and partially destroyed. It has since been rehung without, however, unfavorable comment on the part of Bryan.

It has developed that a determined attempt will be made to have the offensive emblem removed on the date of Bryan's notification, as many Democrats will be in the city, and municipal tact, the Democrats say, requires that visitors be not required to look at the banner. Chairman Hayward of the Republican state committee is now in Ohio, and has not been asked if he will take down the banner. He said before the destruction of the sign that he would consent to the removal on notification day, but since the day it was taken down he has not said he would adhere to this promise.

Extensive preparations are being made in Lincoln for Bryan's notification Aug. 12. The speeches are to be made from a platform on the state capitol grounds and will start at 2 o'clock. The original hour set for the event was somewhat later, but was changed by Mr. Bryan for the accommodation of eastern newspaper representatives.

After the notification is completed, marching clubs from towns in the state will form a monster parade through the business part of the city. The parade and spectators will then take cars to Fairview, where a reception will be held on the Bryan lawn.

Mr. and Mrs. Siegrist, Carl and Ray Seigrist and Dr. and Mrs. McClain made the trip in Mr. Seigrist's White Steamer.

Mr. Tom Wheeler and Mr. Crowthers had their families in their respective cars.

The trip was made with never an accident to mar it.

Mayor Foster, of Roscoe, J. H. Cramblett and F. J. Kristofek, were among those who drove their autos to the ball game at Gladwell Sunday.

OHIO STATE FAIR AND INDUSTRIAL EXPOSITION

COLUMBUS, AUG. 31, SEPT. 1, 2, 3, 4, 1908

Its Exhibition Equipment for Arranging and Presenting in the Most Comprehensive and Instructive Form the Products of Industry, Unrivalled by Any Similar Exposition in the World.

SEVENTEEN MAMMOTH EXPOSITION BUILDINGS

Extensive in Capacity, Elegant in Design, Ample in Accommodations—Its Park Ground One of Rare Scenic Beauty, Unequalled by Any Pleasure Resort in the State—The Coming Exhibition Gives Promise of Being the Greatest and Grandest in the State's History.

With the announcement of the fifty-eighth annual Ohio State Fair and Industrial Exposition, to be held in Columbus, August 31, September 1, 2, 3, 4, next, we desire to acquaint our readers with a brief description of the grandeur of the Exposition grounds and the massiveness of its building equipment, wherein are housed magnificent exhibits and displays truly depicting the greatness of the Buckeye state.

It is needless, no doubt, to review the benefits accruing from this annual agricultural and industrial exhibition, as they manifest themselves in our improved breeding lines, bountiful harvests and general prosperity of the state as a whole. Today all such exhibitions, great or small, are universally recognized as schools of learning of the highest rank. The county fair is a benefactor to every resident of the county wherein held, while the State Fair, broader in its scope, is of vast importance to every community. Here are gathered the cream of the products of the factory, farm, school and home of every county in the state, and here assemble the more progressive citizens of the commonwealth to pass judgment on the exhibits and gain knowledge by carefully studying and comparing the displays.

Ohio, foremost state in the Union, recognizing the value of such Expositions, has wisely provided most magnificent grounds and buildings for its annual exhibition. The home of this grand state educational institution is ideally located about two and one-half mile northeast of the state capitol, comprising 115 acres of rolling land, on which have been erected 17 colossal exhibition buildings. The park ground proper, with its adornments of rare shrubbery, flowering embellishments, lagoons and shaded retreats, is unrivalled by any pleasure resort in the state, and as the visitors stroll down the broad avenues or shaded lanes leading to the various points of interest there is unfolded a tectural effect and convenience of arrangement. Broad, clean aisles lead through each structure, enabling an inspection of the animals in their resting quarters, while in the center of each building is an arena where the animals are brought for premium adjudications. Surmounting these arenas are seated amphitheatres, affording opportunity for all to witness the awarding of premiums.

The largest structure in the group is the horse building—332x332 feet—with stall capacity for 650 head. The cattle building is 280x280 feet, and will accommodate 800 animals. The swine and sheep buildings are twin structures—180x180 feet each—with pen capacity for 1,000 animals. For the coming exposition the live stock classifications have been thoroughly revised and with the liberal premiums offered Ohio's stock show will be second to none.

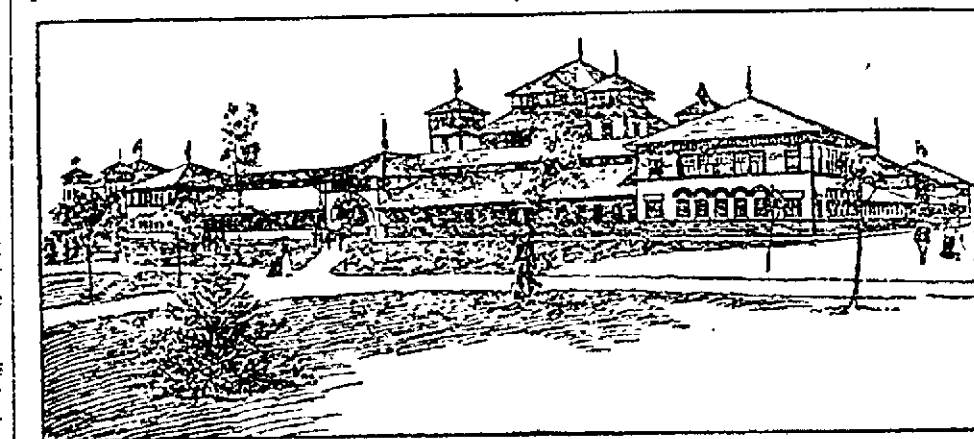

Another important and interesting department of the exposition is that of machinery, and for these displays three structures, with a combined floor space of 160,000 square feet, have been provided. Here will be exhibited the latest labor-saving farm and shop inventions, while on the 15 acres of open ground adjacent to these structures will be shown harvesting and road machinery in actual operation. The machinery displays will be most extensive, as every inch of available space has at this early date been assigned to leading manufacturers.

The ease of accessibility of the capital city by numerous steam and electric railways centering there makes the cost of a visit to the exposition inexpensive, and in planning your outing this season you should remember the dates—August 31, September 1, 2, 3, 4—as no progressive citizen can afford to miss the opportunity of reviewing the progress of the state as exemplified in the magnificent exhibits and displays, and at the same time enjoy the innumerable attractions provided.

gorgeous vision feast of nature's work combined with man's art, forming a most picturesque scene. Here and there over the park ground in shaded nooks are rustic seats, where one may rest amidst these pleasant environments, relax from the cares and worries of this busy life and enjoy to the fullest extent the pleasure derived from a close observation of the beauties of nature.

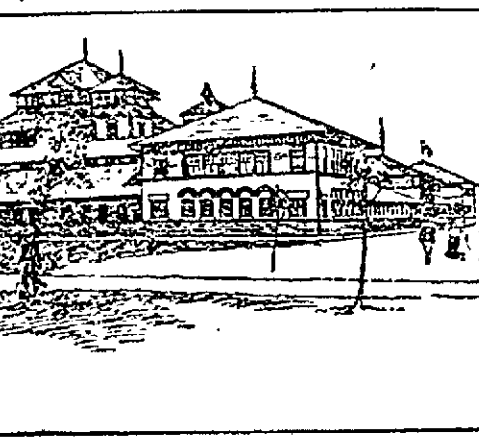

Its building equipment is far in advance of any similar exposition, and to further facilitate the passing from one structure to another all are connected by covered walks of artistic design.

Passing along the main avenue leading from the southwest entrance, the first building of importance to greet the visitor is the handsome structure devoted to exhibits of the higher arts, and immediately north is the commodious Woman's building. Leaving this structure, following the covered promenade to the north, we enter the Central Exposition buildings, forming no doubt the most colossal and imposing structures to be found on any exposition ground in the Union. Six buildings compose the group, and they are devoted to exhibits of agricultural and horticultural products; manufactured and merchandise displays, and an extensive show of automobiles, fancy traps and vehicles. The exhibits are properly classified in separate departments, and are a center of interest during the entire week of the exposition.

While Ohio has nobly provided for the displays of art and the industries above enumerated, it is the handsome structures devoted to live stock interests that have gained for the Buckeye State worldwide fame. Five structures, grouped in the northern section of the grounds, apart from all other exposition buildings, are devoted to live stock displays. They are connected by covered promenades and are unrivalled in their artistic architection. The ease of accessibility of the capital city by numerous steam and electric railways centering there makes the cost of a visit to the exposition inexpensive, and in planning your outing this season you should remember the dates—August 31, September 1, 2, 3, 4—as no progressive citizen can afford to miss the opportunity of reviewing the progress of the state as exemplified in the magnificent exhibits and displays, and at the same time enjoy the innumerable attractions provided.

Weak Heart Action

There are certain nerves that control the action of the heart. When they become weak, the heart action is impaired. Short breath, pain around heart, choking sensation, palpitation, fluttering, feeble or rapid pulse, and other distressing symptoms follow. Dr. Miles Heart Cure is a medicine especially adapted to the needs of these nerves and the muscular structure of the heart itself. It is a strengthening tonic that brings speedy relief. Try it.

"For years I suffered with what I thought was stomach trouble, when the doctors told me I had heart trouble. I had tried many remedies, when the Dr. Miles' medicine came into my hands, and I concluded to try Dr. Miles' Heart Cure. I have taken three bottles, and now I am not suffering at all. I am cured and this medicine did it. I write this in the hope that it will attract the attention of others who suffer as I did."

As Good As It Looks.

P. & G. Naphtha Soap is white, firm, well-made. It looks good—and it is as good as it looks.

Take a cake of P. & G. Naphtha Soap in one hand and a cake of any other naphtha soap in the other. Compare them!

One is white, firm, well-made. It looks good; it is good.

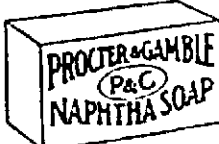

The other is—but, never mind about the other. What you are interested in is P. & G. Naphtha Soap.

The superiority of P. & G. Naphtha Soap is proven, first, by the color of it and, second, by the fact that it is harder than any other naphtha soap.

The color shows that there is no rosin in P. & G. Naphtha Soap. Some naphtha soaps contain as much as 25% rosin. P. & G. Naphtha Soap contains none.

The hardness indicates that it will last longer; will do more work and is, therefore, more economical.

P. & G. Naphtha Soap is for sale in almost every grocery in this city.

The Price is 5 Cents a Cake.

Taste the Maple Flavor.

One Package Free

We want your children to know this enticing maple flavor. So we offer to buy the first package of Mapl-Flake. No child will be content without it then.

We spend 96 hours to prepare Mapl-Flake, yet flaked foods can be made in one-fourth of that time.

Our wheat is steam-cooked for six hours—cooked in pure maple syrup. Then it is cured for days.

Then each separate berry is flaked as thin as paper, so the full heat of our ovens can penetrate.

Then those thin flakes are toasted 30 minutes in a heat of 400 degrees.

That long process is necessary to perfect digestion. Every food expert knows this.

The particles must be separated, by heat and by cooking, so the digestive juices can get to them.

Otherwise half of the food is wasted. It ferments and irritates the stomach lining.

Even mere economy demands Mapl-Flake—the one food that's all food—the food that will all digest.

To make the best food most delicious, we cook the wheat in pure maple syrup.

We do this to make the flavor enticing, so children will want it. You don't need to urge them to eat it.

If you serve them afterward an inferior food, they'll urge you back to this.

It is well to have it so. For no other cereal—none of the fad foods—is half so good for children as this perfect wheat.

In these hot days, when meat is too heating, Mapl-Flake is most important.

It is the ideal food for summer. It gives the maximum of nourishment, and produces the minimum heat.

Comfort and health demand it. Every summer breakfast should consist solely of Mapl-Flake and fruit. A good way to serve them is to mix them together.

One Package Free

We want you to try this ideal food, if only for the children's sake. Try it at our expense.

Compare it with fad foods, if you have used them. Judge for yourself which is best.

Ask your children their opinions. They are the ones to please.

Please send us this coupon—now before you forget it. We will then send you an order good at your grocer's, for a full-size package of Mapl-Flake. Then let this perfect food, on your table, stand for itself.

Cut Out This Coupon

and mail it to the Hygienic Food Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

I have never used Mapl-Flake, but if you will send me an order on my grocer for a 15c package free, I shall be glad to try it.

PASTOR AND PEOPLE HIS TIMELY TOPIC

The proper relations of pastor and people were admirably set forth in the excellent sermon on "Stewardship," which the Rev. Louis Wein preached at the English Lutheran church Sunday evening. Mr. Wein was installed the Sunday preceding and this was his introductory sermon; the introductory one at St. Paul's church in Franklin township was delivered in the morning.

In the course of his sermon the pastor said that a minister must have godliness and that his first duty is to preach the gospel to which the soul of man is unified; in the second place, sin must be put before man's eyes; and in the third place, man must be turned to the aspect of the law as well as of the gospel. A pastor should not overlook the human weakness of his flock, he must point out the failings which beset humanity if he would be true to his high calling.

Following this Mr. Wein said:

Church Events

Emmanuel Lutheran—A short congregational meeting will follow the regular service next Sunday morning.

Baptist—District four meets tonight with Mrs. Thomas Burrell.

M. P.—The Christian Endeavor society gives a social next Thursday evening at the home of Miss Alice Milligan; ice cream and cake will be served.

Christian—The Sunday school teachers meet at the church Wednesday evening. Mrs. George Hull's Sunday school class gives a social Thursday evening at the McDowell home in Pleasant Valley. The Gleamers will meet Friday evening with Mrs. Simon Renner.

Grace—On account of Chautauqua district seven will meet Wednesday afternoon at 2:15 with Mrs. L. J. Baker on the lawn at the James R. Johnson home on South Third street. In case of rain the district will meet with Mrs. U. G. Ralston. There will be no evening service next Sunday on account of Chautauqua.

OHIO NEWS

Makes Fatal Mistake.
Columbus, O., July 27.—Jumping from the cab of engine No. 465 of the Pennsylvania line to escape what he thought was certain death by a collision with an engine which seemed to him to be on the same track as the speeding train, but which was in reality on another track, Frank R. Morris, a fireman, whose home is near Westerville, received a basal fracture of the skull with other injuries which resulted in his death at Protestant hospital.

Murders Wife and Escapes.
Toledo, O., July 27.—Returning to his wife's home after an absence of 15 years, Louis Armour, 50, murdered the woman, fired a bullet at his daughter and tried to commit suicide. The revolver falling him, Armour disappeared and is now being sought by a posse of police and citizens. Jealousy because of the success of his family and the refusal of his wife to take him back to her home are attributed as the causes of the shooting.

Burglars Put to Flight.
Chardon, O., July 27.—Unarmed, plucky Herbert Cowles, 18, fought two robbers in his father's ginseed garden and, although brutally beaten, put them to flight. Cowles, thrown down, jumped to his feet, kicked one of the robbers in the stomach and aroused police and citizens. He saved several hundred dollars' worth of the plants they had dug.

Killed by Policeman.
Steubenville, O., July 27.—Policeman Bert Haggerty shot and killed Michael McCort at Mingo Junction, following a desperate fight in which McCort chewed the officer's ear and beat him on the head with his own night stick. Haggerty, who had attempted to arrest McCort on a charge of disorderly conduct, was not arrested.

Two Girls Drowned.
Cleveland, O., July 27.—Rose Morgan, 23, and Nellie Smith, 20, were drowned off the west breakwater. Miss Morgan lost her balance while the two were dangling their feet in the water and, in falling, drew Miss Smith into the lake with her.

TELLS OF TAFT THE AMERICAN

The editor of The Age is in receipt of a very interesting and handsome book, "William Howard Taft, American," from Mr. Henry A. Williams, chairman of the Ohio Republican Executive committee. It tells the story of Mr. Taft in most interesting detail, from the finest pen of Robert L. Damm and shows the bright, human, fellowship side of Judge Taft's character. It is a most delightful book and one that every Republican and every Democrat as well would profit by reading. In fact it convinces one that the Republican nominee is a thoroughly delightful person to meet and a great big American in every respect.

to run in the fair grounds Sunday afternoon and was very impressive. The services were opened by a song by the M. E. church quartet and after prayer by Rev. Hushour of Roscoe the roll of the dead was called. The deceased are:

Ed. Shaw,
Susie DeCoursey,
Anna Parsons.
After another selection by the quartet Pres. Eckert introduced Rev. Hushour who gave a most excellent address. He said in part:

An Inspiring Address.
"We are in a peculiar situation; no matter who or what we may be we know that at some time death must come and we are all swept away. It is fitting therefore that we should pause to pay tribute to our dead brethren, for we know not how soon or under what circumstances death will claim us but we do know that at one time each of our homes will be touched with sorrow. Is it not blessed then that we can be comforted by the knowledge that we may at the end all be again gathered together."

He went on to compare a certain tower in Pisa with the sorrow of death and the joy of meeting.

"It is said that if any sound be produced in this tower no matter how harsh and discordant, it will be sweetest music before it reaches the dome. Just so with the great problem of death and resurrection; it goes hard at the time, but as the harsh sounds are harmonized in the lower, so will all be harmony, joy and happiness on that memorable day when all shall be reunited at the feet of the Christ."

In closing he said:
"We are all heirs of sorrow; remember Xerxes with his great army, a hundred thousand strong who wept as he gazed at them from the hill top and when asked why he should weep when leader of the greatest army ever known at that time, replied, 'I weep because I do know that in a hundred years not one man of my number will be living'. Thus, so uncertain is life and so certain is death that not one of us can afford to go unprepared to meet our Savior should he call us."

Stop That Cold

To check early colds or Grippe with "Preventics" means sure defeat for Pneumonia. To stop a cold with Preventics is safer than to let it run and be obliged to cure it afterwards. To be sure, Preventics will cure even a deeply seated cold, but taken early—at the sneeze stage—they break, or head off these early colds. That's surely better. That's why they are called Preventics.

Preventics are little Candy Cold Cures. No Quinine, no physic, nothing sickening. Nice for the children—and thoroughly safe too. If you feel chilly, if you sneeze, if you ache all over, think of Preventics. Promptness may also save half your usual sickness. And don't forget your child. If there is feverishness, night fever, Hershin probably lies Preventics' greatest efficiency. Sold in boxes for the pocket, also in 25c boxes of 48 Preventics. Insist on your druggists giving you

U. B. FELLOWSHIP MARKS SERVICE

The Fellowship Service at the U. B. church Sunday morning was exceptionally well attended for a July service and was an event both helpful and uplifting in the church life. With the exception of a few pertinent remarks by the pastor the service was largely one of praise in which the excellent work of the large chorus choir was particularly noticeable.

BUSHEL OF PEACHES SHOW BAD BLIGHT

"There will be a lot of peaches sent to the markets this year that have no business being in anybody's kitchen," remarked a prominent peach grower of Coshocton county Saturday to an Age man. "Scores and hundreds of trees over the county have developed a disease in the last week or two that is giving the fruit what is called 'the yellows'. That is, peaches that should not ripen till the latter part of August are getting ripe and yellow now and bushels of them will be marketed in that shape. My idea is that such peaches should not be sent to market any more than the meat of diseased hogs. I don't know that a person would be made ill by eating them, but the fact is that the tree is badly diseased and the peaches would not be in that condition. I have several trees in that shape and have given orders that no fruit be picked off of them either for our own use or for the markets."

Bridges May be 24 And Not 30 Feet

Twenty-four feet may be the width of the Main and Twelfth street bridges, as the result of a conference between County Commissioners Davis, Dixon and Rinehart, the Bridge committee of the Business Men's association and Consulting Engineer Harry Lewis, of Pittsburgh, at the county commissioners' office, Monday morning and afternoon.

Engineer Lewis suggests a 24-foot bridge because he thinks it ample in width and does away with vehicles going in the same direction passing one another while crossing the bridge. The commissioners and some of the Bridge committee seemed to think the suggestion a good one and it may be adopted. It was stated that the Smithfield street bridge at Pittsburgh is only 22 feet wide.

In the sketch submitted by Engineer Lewis, who was formerly of West Lafayette, the steel bridge is favored rather than the concrete. He was asked to explain his objections to the concrete and said that when moisture accumulates in the crevices of the concrete each of these little holes is like a hydraulic jack and wears the bridge away.

Engineer Lewis favors one footwalk on each bridge, but suggests that the brackets be left projecting on the other side of the bridge so that another footwalk can be constructed if the foot-traffic demands it. Mr. Lewis thinks that one walk will be ample for the Twelfth street bridge.

Mr. Lewis has not yet been employed by the commissioners but the steel plans of Engineer Beck have been placed in his hands.

Commissioner Davis stated that bids would be advertised for both steel and concrete. "We don't want to stifle competition but to invite it," said he. Commissioners Reinhardt and Dixon had to leave at 2 o'clock, and another meeting will be held when the commissioners return to Coshocton Monday.

FOR RENT—Four rooms upstairs, modern conveniences. Apply to I. D. Cohen, 124 North Second street. Both phones.

Sultan Made a Great Hit

Associated Dallas Telegram. CONSTANTINOPLE, July 27.—Demonstrations over the Turkish constitution continue. A crowd of over two hundred thousand gathered outside the palace this morning and cheered the Sultan.

Notes of The Game

Seemingly every young lady in Gnadenhutzen turned out to see the game. They were banked up against the school house and along the side line between home plate and third base. They sang "Glory Hallelujah" and "We'll Hang Bill Duvé On a Sour Apple Tree." The heroes of the village evidently got the baseball spirit from their mothers.

Twelve Coshocton automobiles surrounded the field. Horns and megaphones were in evidence throughout the game.

Bill Duvé was as steady as a clock. He did not let a single batter walk to first. Had his support been as good as in the game down here he would have won his game easily.

That Umpire Gray is one of the family. There are two others on the team you notice. He ought to command a salary on the stage this winter as a daylight robber.

Wait till Gnadenhutzen comes down here.

Well, seven games out of eight isn't so worse.

Coshocton and Newcomerstown will play at Buckeye Lake on the day of the excursion.

Other Games of Saturday

The following is a complete list of the games and results of local teams Saturday:

Athletics 5, Warsaw 4, at Warsaw. Wiggins and White were the points for the local team and Heck and Latham for Warsaw. It was a fast game.

The Stars played a double header at Riverside park winning both games each by an overwhelming score. The feature of the games was the work of Haight, who pitched both for the Stars and was scored in both to the extent of five runs.

The games were: First game: Stars 11, Blue Row 4. Ordway pitched for the Blue Rows. Second game: Stars 11, Eldridge Higgins Co. 1.

Only a very few of the Eldridge Higgins team players were present. The Crescents simply swept their opponents the Silver Stars under; the score being at all times in the former's favor and when the dust had cleared and the tallies counted the result was 28 to 6.

The batteries: Crescents, Donley and Johnson; Silver Stars, Dick Merrill and Tidball.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy Would Have Saved Him $100.00

"In 1902 I had a very severe attack of diarrhoea," says R. N. Farver of Cat Island, La. "For several weeks I was unable to do anything. On March 18, 1907, I had a similar attack, and took Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which gave me prompt relief. I consider it one of the best medicines of its kind in the world, and had I used it in 1902 I believe it would have saved me a hundred dollar doctor's bill." Sold by C. E. Doc's Great Work

Fred Abbott went over to Newark Sunday and saw his brother "Doc" win the game against Marion by making a beautiful catch in the eighth inning, shutting out Marion 2 to 0.

Wants His Happy Home Again

John DeConroy was in town Sunday trying to reach a reconciliation with his wife and straighten up domestic troubles. A few weeks ago he went up near Bakerstown to his father's farm to work. His wife followed a few days later and as he happened to be down to Coshocton that day she left the children and return here. She has since been working at Taylor's restaurant. Saturday night Mr. DeConroy went to Humane Officer Vossell's office and endeavored to arrange a meeting with his wife but for some reason the plans miscarried. Mr. DeConroy says that the sensational article which appeared in another paper caused his domestic trouble to be greatly increased and placed him in a very bad light. He went up to his father's to get work and not to abandon his children.

Mr. and Mrs. Deishley left today for their home in Logan.

AT THAT THE SCORE WAS CLOSE Coshocton Boys Put up a Fast Game Before Rooters Who Stuck to Them

His Imperial Nibs, Mr. Umps, coupled with a few costly errors caused the victory of the Coshocton team at Gnadenhutzen Saturday afternoon. According to the umpire the score was 6 to 5. Had the official arbiter of the game displayed even a shadow of fairness Coshocton would have won. The way he did things made the stage robberies of the James boys pale into insignificance.

Time runneth not back to the day when Gnadenhutzen lost on her own grounds. Coshocton learned the reason of this Saturday. It isn't considered good form to come back with a story about the umpire but in this instance it is pardonable. The game was simply stolen from Coshocton and the fact that Gnadenhutzen was given the fairest kind of a deal when they were defeated down here two weeks before made the robbery all the more glaring. In the eighth inning Coshocton when Sondles, Thompson and Thompson scored making the score 5 to 4 in favor of Coshocton. Thompson had scored on Gross's long fly. After the smoke had all cleared away and the Coshocton rooters were exulting over the lead that had been honestly earned, the umpire announced that Thompson had left the base before Gross's fly had been caught and Thompson was called out. The Coshocton players were so disgusted that they were preparing to leave the field but decided the main thing to do would be to play it out. The game should have broken up right at this point and the correct score was therefore 5 to 4 in favor of Coshocton. But the game started again with the score tied.

First Inning. Tish, Duffy and Sondles struck out. Pug Davis got a hit. R. Gray went out at first. Blind fanned. Kennedy hit and Davis scored. Spring hit and Guenther struck out. The three hits had netted one run.

Second Inning. Powellson went out at first. Thompson walked. Brennan was put out at first. Stewart knocked one over the automobiles just to the right of deep center but was caught at third base. Thompson scored. Helwig reached first. McConnell fouled out. Gray and Davis were put out at first.

Third Inning. Gross fouled out. Duvé out at first. Tish fanned. R. Gray flied out. Blind fanned again. Kennedy flied out to Thompson.

Fourth Inning. Duffy went out on a rank decision at first base. Sondles fanned but reached first safely. Powellson got a nice hit. Thompson sacrificed. Brennan went out at first. Spring reached first. Guenther flied to Powellson. Helwig struck out. McConnell flied to Tish.

Fifth Inning. Stewart got another hit. Gross flied out. Duvé got first on Davis' misjudgment in throwing to second. Tish and Duffy flied out. Gray was hit by the ball. Day's sacrificed but Gray was caught at second. R. Gray got a life on Brennan's error. Blind made a three-bagger, bringing in Davis and Gray. Kennedy reached first, scoring Blind. Spring hit to right. Guenther died at first. Helwig flied out.

Sixth Inning. Sondles and Powellson did not reach first. Thompson knocked a three-bagger. Brennan brought Thompson in on Davis' fumble. Stewart flied out. McConnell fanned. M. Gray knocked an easy grounder to Duvé. Blind was out at first.

Seventh Inning. Gross and Duvé fanned. Tish hit to right. Duffy flied out. Kennedy flied to Gross. Davis and Helwig were put out at first.

Eighth Inning. Sondles got a hit. Powellson drew a pass. Thompson hit. Brennan fanned. Stewart knocked a grounder and Sondles and Powellson scored. Thompson scored on Gross's long fly but the ump called him out. McConnell fanned. Duvé hit M. Gray. Davis flied to Thompson and R. Gray flied out to right. Kennedy got a hit and Spring got another. Kennedy and Spring each stole a base.

Guenther struck out. Helwig knocked an easy one but Brennan dropped the ball at first and Kennedy and Spring both scored, ending the agony Coshocton.

MISS CARVER TELLS INDIANS OF THE FUN THEY'LL HAVE

The Seton Indians had a grand good time last year at Chautauqua but they are going to have an even better one this year for Miss Garver says so and she certainly ought to know for she knows just what it is that boys and girls like best to do. This is the first Chautauqua work she has done this summer and she has come full of enthusiasm over the plans which she has in mind. "I'm glad to get back to Coshockton," she said to an Age reporter "and I'm hoping for a big tribe of boys and girls. We had one hundred last year and I would like to have that number doubled next year. At The Totem Pole I want them all to meet me at the Totem pole next Friday morning at 9 o'clock and I hope they will all have their Indian costumes by that time. Of course the boys and girls who were with me last year will have their's left over and I hope the new ones will have their's made. What should they be of? Oh cambric or brown calico or flowered cretonne—anything the "Indians" like—and of course they should wear beads too; all Indians do."

New Features

It is probable that part of the work done last year will be repeated and there will be numerous new features, a cross country run, for instance, a marshmallow roasts and other things of like nature. Of course feathers and medals will be won but they will be given for new feats. By the way, Miss Garver says that the braves and maidens are to bring the feathers and medals they won last year—they will make splendid beginnings in the way of decorations for the headpieces which they all are to wear.

Grand Pow-wow

The last Saturday evening of the Chautauqua will be devoted to a Grand Indian Pow-wow which is to be held in the auditorium and promises to be one of the particularly interesting events of the assembly. It will be along the lines of last year's Field Day but will be much more elaborate.

Special features of it will be the Corn Dance by the Indian Maidens, the Butterfly dance by the Little Indians and a quaint camp fire play entitled "The Leggo Snake and the Googly Frog" which Ernest Thompson-Seton wrote just for the braves in the Seton Indian tribes.

In addition to these there will be Captain Ball, Stride Pyramid, Skin the Snake and several other new athletic features for the older boys; a Flag Drill, Fancy Wreath Drill, Marching and Grouping for the older girls and Three Deep, Relays and Drills for the Little Indians.

A Busy Time

It is easy to be seen that the boys and girls have a lot to do to get ready for this big Pow-wow so of course it behooves them all to be at the Totem Pole promptly at 9 o'clock next Friday morning. The leather tickets which the Indians are to wear sell for one dollar and admit the children not only to the Seton Indian meetings but also to all the other numbers of the Chautauqua.

program. The committee has having many inquiries on the subject and wishes that point clearly understood.

Try This For Dessert.

Dissolve one package of any flavored JELL-O in one pint of boiling water. When partly congealed, beat stiff light adding one cup whipped cream and six crushed macaroons. Whip all together thoroughly and pour it into a mold or bowl. When cool, it will jellify and may be served with whipped cream or any good pudding sauce.

The JELL-O costs 10c. per package and can be obtained at any good grocer's.

LIBRARY TO CLOSE AT 1 P. M.

The library board has decided to keep the library closed every afternoon during Chautauqua, closing at 1 p. m. From 6 to 6:30 p. m. the library will be open for the exchange of books and will then close for the night. During the month of August, Chautauqua, the library will close every evening at 5:30 o'clock except Saturdays when it will remain open to the usual hour. It is likely that hereafter during the months of July and August the library will close every evening except Saturdays at 5:30.

Toadstool Spoils Mushr'ms

Charles Moore gathered a basket of mushrooms, more or less, some of them magnificent specimens. Unfortunately however he gathered a few deadly poison ones, which of course rendered the whole bunch unfit for use. He was wise enough to submit the lot to an expert and the discovery was made in a hurry.
